

Siamang Gibbon

Habitat: Rainforests and deciduous forests in Sumatra in Asia

Size: 29-35 inches with arms 2.5 times the length of the body

Life Span: 25-30 years in the wild

Diet: leaves, fruit, insects, birds and small vertebrates

Reproduction: Typically 1 young after a 7 month gestation

Conservation Status

Extinct

Extinct in the wild

Critically Endangered

✓ Endangered

Vulnerable

Near Threatened

Least Concern

Did You Know?

The siamang sings very loudly in the morning, being heard up to three miles away. It is the only primate to walk erect on two legs (besides humans).

Due to:
Illegal pet trade and habitat loss